Student Representative Council

Overview

The Student Representative Council offers the students of the Al Noori Muslim School an opportunity to represent their peers in a leadership role. Students in the senior class are eligible for selection as executive members of the SRC. Executive positions include Captain, Vice-Captain, Secretary, Treasurer and Prefects. Two class members from every class from K-12 are elected by their peers to represent them at the meetings and to report back to the class on the decisions that the council members have made.

The SRC are responsible for fundraising for various charities that they select throughout the year, for organising and holding school events and for raising money and purchasing selected equipment that they feel would benefit the whole school population.

Guidelines

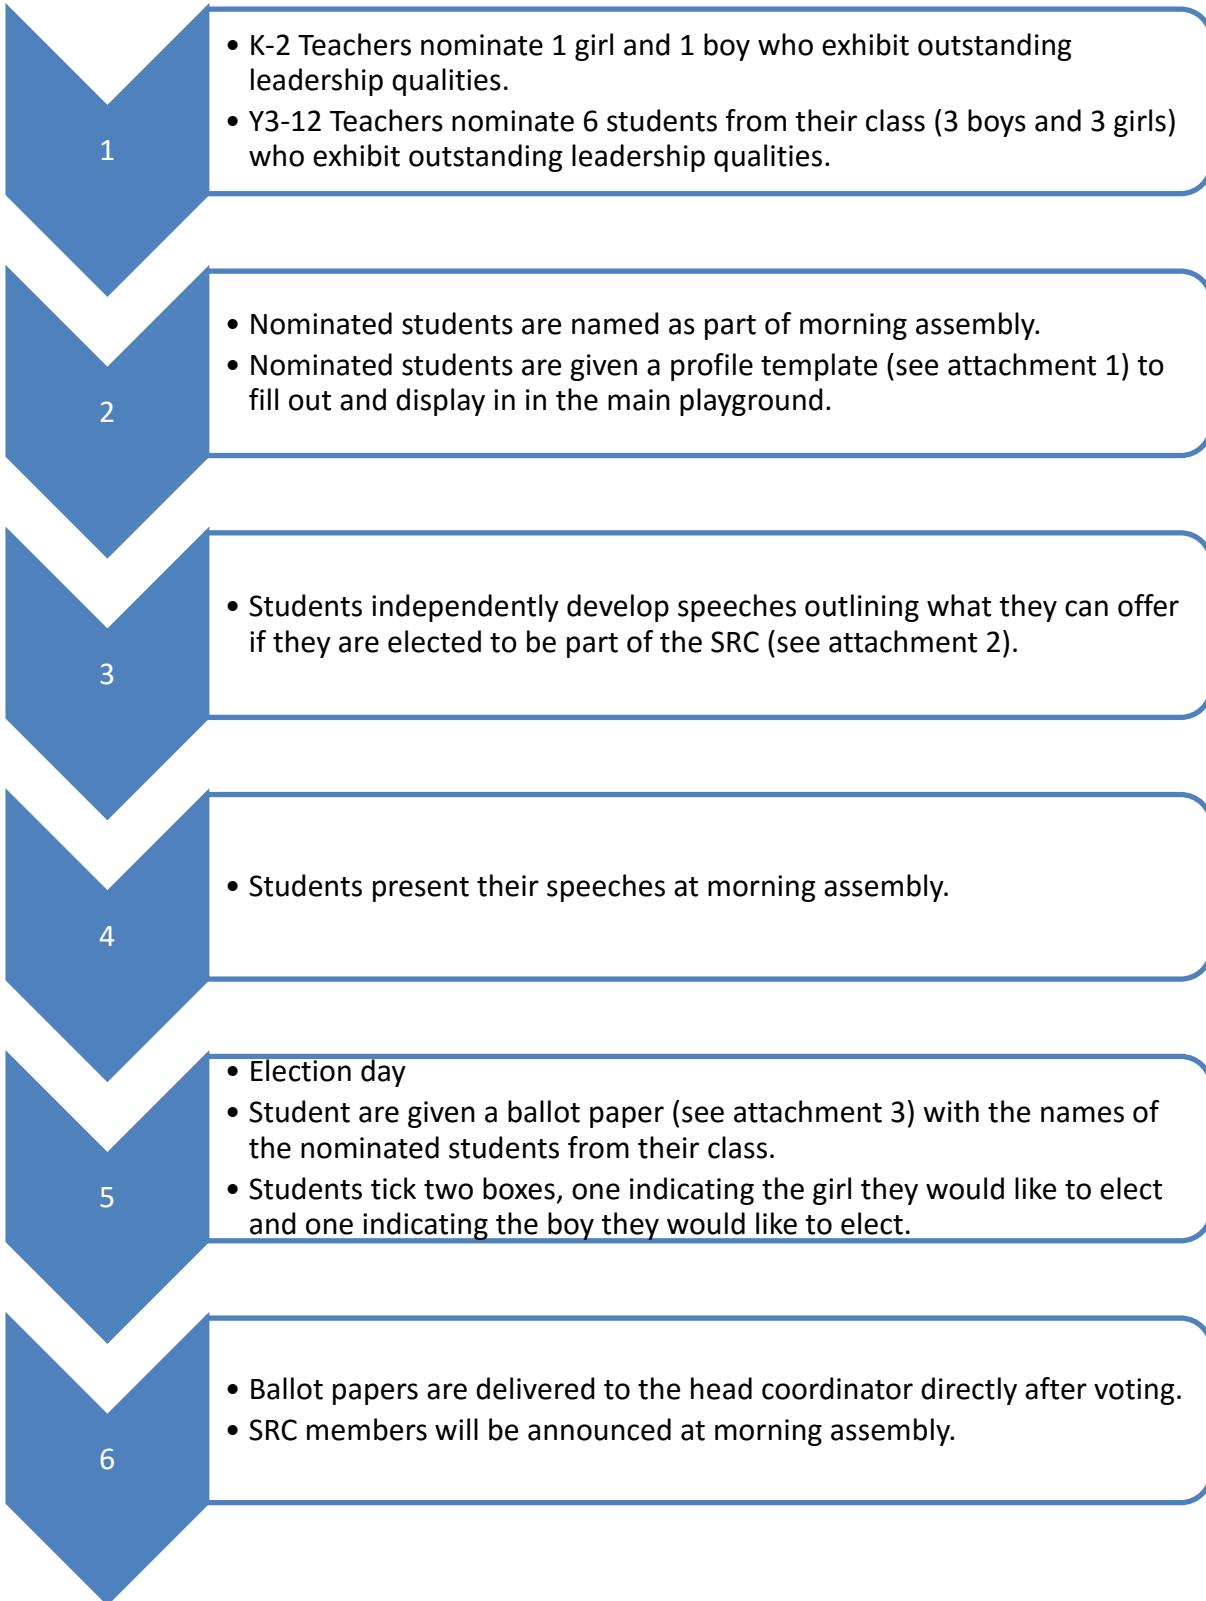

Members of the SRC students:

- Have no behaviour records
- are active citizens of the school community and have their ideas and opinions routinely sought and respected
- contribute to and participate in decision-making in their school
- have opportunities for participation and leadership which are inclusive of gender, special needs and cultural backgrounds
- are involved in making decisions affecting their lives modelling Australian democratic and representative practices
- are prepared for and supported in their leadership and decision-making roles through all aspects of the curriculum, in classroom, whole school and out-of-school activities

The skills, values, knowledge and attitudes that students learn from participation in the SRC are vital to their future role as citizens of a democratic society.

Procedures

Election Process

Recognition

Students elected to represent their peers will be presented in a formal assembly attended by the student population, staff and relevant and prominent members of the local community. Students will be decorated with badges identifying their roles.

Participation

The Student Representative Council will convene once a week during school hours. During this time students will be supervised by two teachers who will support student decision making and leadership.

Students will:

- discuss ways in which they can improve the schooling experience for all students
- set goals and work towards achieving them
- identify areas of responsibility
- identify and adhere to roles
- organise fundraising events for charities
- assist with schooling events
- list contact details of people within and outside of the school community who can help with decision-making outcomes
- be aware of limits to student decision-making, e.g. the final accountability of the principal for implementing policy
